What on Earth
Is the reason people will not, cannot, or do not see any difference in cheap nos trumps put up by Cheap John houses or irresponsible parties at enormous profits, rather than take a medicine of world wide reputation and one that is giving universal satisfaction at equal price? WINTERS-GREGORY.

Wedding Bells at the Winters Mansion.

WASHOE CITY, Feb. 27th.

Forty invited guests left Reno at 3 p. m. today on the special train provided by Mr. Theodore Winters, to witness the marriage of his eldest daughter, Nellie M. Winters, to John M. Gregory of San Francisco.

A ride of forty minutes brought the train to the gate of the broad and beautiful ranch which the energy of Mr. Winters has reclaimed from the wilderness of Washoe Valley. A ride of a mile in sleigh completed the journey and the guests were ushered into the spacious and beautiful parlors of the homestead, where the Hon. Theodore Winters and his estimable wife have made their home for thirty years and grown up around them a delightful family of boys and girls.

At 5:15 the company assembled in the large hall of the family residence. The hall was tastefully decorated; on the walls hung paintings of fruits, flowers and scenes; the work of the bride's own hands. At the West end was placed a floral arch, beautiful to behold, constructed of the vines and flowers of California. On the left of the keystone was interwoven the initial "W," and on the right the initial "G," and suspended from the center was a marriage bell of japonicas. In the windows were blooming flowers tastefully arranged. On the left of the foot of the arch was a painting of El Rio Rey, on the right side one of the ill-fated Czar; these beautiful works of art representing the swift and noble horses, for the breeding of which Mr. Winters has become famous over the United States.

The bridal party took their places under the marriage bell, Miss Nellie Winters acting as bridesmaid and Mr. W. H. Gregory as groomsmen. To the right of the bridal party was Mrs. Winters, and to the left Mr. Winters.

The two got off at the tap of the bell, and were brought under the wire by Parson Davis of Carson, in about 2:08, everybody declaring it a dead heat. It was a single dash, double harness, Episcopalian rules.

The bride was given away by her father. She wore a cream satin and silk tissue, and her ornaments were diamonds and orange blossoms. The bridesmaid was attired in white albatross and pink silk tissue. They both carried bouquets of flowers sent them from friends in Sacramento.

After the ceremony the company adjourned to the parlors to view the bridal presents, which were of Nevada's pride—brilliant, glittering silver.

We noticed the following:

Mr. and Mrs. W. O. H. Martin, a handsome silver set of knives, forks and spoons.

E. C. Ray, pie knife.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Winters, bronze mantle clock.

Judge Webster and family, Silver egg cups and tray, gold lined.

Mrs. T. A. Reed, set of silver vases.

Miss Elizabeth Irish, pink brocade silk, jewel and handkerchief fold.

Alex Twaddell, set of carvers.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Thompson, silver nut dish.

Hon. and Mrs. Frank Bell, silver fish knife, gold lined.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Russell, set of silver salts and spoons, gold lined.

Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Sheemaker, silver card receiver.

Mrs. J. L. Flint, set of fruit knives.

"Uncle Alf," set of silver knives, forks, spoons and soup ladle.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Rice, small silver tea set.

Mr. A. Abrahms, an afternoon silver tea set.

Mr. E. M. Fayel and sister, silver berry spoon.

Mr. Henry Gregory, opera glasses and case.

Hon. and Mrs. Osburn, silver sugar spoon.

Miss J. Noyes, white iceland opera hood.

Miss M. Savage, set of table napkins.

Gen. C. W. Irish, silver sugar bowl.

Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Parry, set of silver carvers.

Mrs. Theo. Winters, a set of elegant linen table clothes and napkins.

Mrs. Reynolds, set of hand-painted and embroidered dolleys. Along side the bridal presents was displayed in cases the beautiful, and extensive silver set awarded the bride for her horsemanship at the State Fair of 1888, a gold watch and chain given her at Carson Fair 1889, and of the State Fair of the same date, a gold medal.

At 6:30 eighty guests assembled in the dining room, and were seated to a royal repast such as has never before gladdened the eyes, and cheered the hearts of bridal throngs of Washoe Valley.

The dinner was enlivened by short speeches from Rev. Davis, Judge Webster, Senator Osburn, Mr. Martin, Hon. Frank Bell, Mr. Whited, Mr. Russell, and by the Groom, Groomsman, and Mr. Winters.

After the collation, the arrangement, and dispensing of which was superintended by Messrs. Chamberlain and Parry, the guest gathered in the parlor to witness the presenting of fifty shares of stock in the Nevada Bank to the bride, by her father.

After an hour spent in pleasant conversation, and reminiscences, train time was called, then came the tearful partings and heartfelt farewells of the family which bore witness to the love, and strong attachment held for the sister and daughter now about to sever her daily association with them forever. The goodbyes said, the delighted company departed for their homes. When the rugged old father embraced his daughter for the last time, he broke down and cried like a child.

Among the guests present were, Mr. and Mrs. Russell and two daughters; Senator and Mrs. Osburn, Miss Gilmore, Judge and Mrs. Webster and daughter, J. S. Sheemaker, wife and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Parry, Sheriff and Mrs. Flint, Mrs. Ray and sister, Mr. W. O. H. Martin and wife, Mr. and Mrs. L. Abraham, and family, Mr. and Mrs. Chamberlain, General Irish and daughter Elizabeth, Hon. Lieut. Gov. Bell and wife, Mrs. J. K. Bradley, Mr. Wm. Phillips, Mr. Whited, Miss Jessie Ford, Mr. Ross Lewers, and family, Mr. Alex Twaddell, Mr. and Mrs. Read and family, Mr. Saur and sister, and many others whose names it was impossible to get.

At 9:30 the bridal party with visiting friends, took the train, the friends for home and the party for San Francisco. Thus ended a most pleasant affair, which was enjoyed by all the participants to the highest degree. XXX.
